Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

This communication is responsive to the amendment filed 11/29/2006. Claims 1-4 and 6,9-13 are pending in this application and claims 1-4 and 6,9-13 have been amended. Claims 7 and 8 have been cancelled. This action is Final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4,6,9-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kamara ("Kamara", JavuNetwork: Remote Video Production and Storage)

As per claim 1, Kamara teaches a data-providing apparatus for editing image data in response to a demand transmitted from a data-processing apparatus through the Internet (Column 1 lines 23-28), said data-providing apparatus comprising: first acquisition means for acquiring one or more scenarios, each scenario comprising a plurality of video scenes and each video scene lasting for a predetermined period of time (Column 5 lines 4-10), in response to a demand made by a user of the data-processing apparatus using a web browser (Column 1 lines 28-31); second acquisition means for acquiring a given number of image data items that will be used in the scenario, in response to a demand made by a user of the data-processing apparatus using the web browser (Figure 1, takes a clip of a surfing movie and represents it as a thumbnail); wherein the second acquisition means acquires the image data items supplied from another data-processing apparatus other than the data providing apparatus (Figure 1, Column 5 lines 4-18, Column 6 lines 1-7, upload); user video-data management means for storing the one or more scenarios and the image data items (Column 5 lines 4-27, servers); receiving means for receiving the image data items transmitted by the user from the data-processing apparatus through the Internet using the web browser (Column 5 lines 4-10); means for selecting the image data items acquired by the second acquisition means and for allocating the prescribed image data items to the video scenes of the scenario acquired by the first acquisition means (Figure 1, Column 5 lines 4-18, drag and drop); and editing means for editing the image data items that are allocated to the scenes of the acquired scenario (Figure 1, Column 5 lines 4-18).

As per claim 2, Karmara further teaches the data-providing apparatus according to claim 1, wherein prescribed special effects are allocated to the prescribed ones of the scenes of the scenario, and the apparatus further comprises effect-applying means for applying the special effects to the image data items allocated to the scenes (Figure 1, Column 5 lines 4-18, transitions, sound, titles).

As per claim 3, Karmara further teaches the data-providing apparatus according to claim 2, further comprising transmission control means for controlling the transmission of the image data generated by applying the special effects to the image data items by the effect-applying means (Figure 1, Column 5 lines 4-18, drag and drop, transition effects, add sound, titles).

As per claim 4, Karmara further teaches the data-providing apparatus according to claim 2, further comprising recording control means for controlling the recording of the image data generated by applying the special effects to the image data items by the effect-applying means (Figure 1, Column 5 lines 4-18).

As per claim 6, Karmara teaches wherein different pieces of music are allocated to the plurality of scenarios (Figure 1, Column 5 lines 4-18, sound).

As per claims 9,10,12 they are of similar scope to claim 1 and are rejected under the same rationale (see rejection above).

As per claim 11, Karmara teaches the data providing apparatus according to claim 1, wherein the editing means is capable of editing the image data items transmitted by the user and received by the receiving means, together with the one or more scenarios and the image data items stored at the user-video data management means (Figure 1, Column 5 lines 4-18, filters and transitions).

As per claim 13, it is similar in scope to that of claim 11, and is therefore rejected under similar rationale.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 5/29/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicant argues that Kamara fails to point out an apparatus wherein a second acquisition means acquires the image data items supplied from another data processing apparatus other than the data providing apparatus. However, Kamara teaches in Column 6 lines 1-7 posting, uploading, and downloading files to and from a server. Therefore Kamara teaches acquiring files from at least two data processing apparatuses, a client and a server.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
